$4,189 DAMAGE DONE BY 30 CAR CRASHES IN JUNE

A startling increase in the number of automobile accidents reported to the local substation of the state highway patrol during the month of June over the number for the same month last year is shown in the monthly summaries prepared by Corporal James G. Warren. The number of accidents and persons injured doubled, while the amount of property damage nearly tripled. In June of last year one person died on highways in this section. Last month there were two fatalities.

While the figures for last month were ahead of those for the month of June in 1936, there also was an increase over the accident toll in May of this year.

A table showing the highway accident toll in this section last month; in June, 1936, in May of this year follows:

	June 1937	June 1936	May 1937
Accidents	30	13	14
Injured	30	11	10
Arrests	105	82	102
Fatalities	2	1	0
Damage	$4,189	$1,400	$1,355

The June figures bring the total number of accidents for the year to 117 and the number of persons hurt to 111. Eight have died from injuries inflicted by automobiles and the property damage, including damage to involved automobiles and any other property along the roadside or elsewhere that may have suffered as the result of the collision, has climbed to $19,423.50.

The officers have been busy with motor code enforcement measures and have made a total of 604 arrests, with speeders the most frequent offenders.

During the month of June the patrolmen on the local substation traveled a total of 11,583 miles by motorcycle and automobile in regular patrols and investigation work. In addition to that distance they traveled 62 miles on foot in performance of their duties.

The statistics announced today are the last covering the operations of a state highway patrol substation here. Beginning the first of this month the station became known as the local unit of the traffic division of the Pennsylvania motor police.

Baschore as the result of an accident on the Emmitsburg road, three miles south of here, last Friday night, in which five persons were injured. The plea was signed Thursday afternoon before Justice Baschore.

While the truck was parked in that manner and just as Officer Wolff arrived at that point on a town patrol, the auto of Harry Thompson, Gettysburg R. 3, was struck by a car operated by the Rev. Thurlow Null, Taneytown. Thompson was attempting to turn into the driveway when the accident occurred. Damage was slight and no one was hurt. The accident occurred about 10:45 o'clock Thursday morning.

C. OF C. PETITION SEEKS SUPPORT OF AIR MAIL PLAN

Support of residents of this community for pending legislation which would enable the establishment of air-mail and air-express pickup and delivery service is being sought by local Chamber of Commerce officials by the circulation of petitions which call upon members of congress to back the measure.

Demonstration flights were made here April 16 and 17 under the direction of Dr. Lytle S. Adams, Irwin, Pa., inventor and promoter of the pickup and delivery air mail system. Two flights were made on each of those days and several hundred air mail letters were picked up here and carried to the Camden airport.

The sub-committee on post offices and post roads in the House of Representatives also witnessed a similar demonstration at Washington, D. C., and is reported to have given the plan "unanimous favorable consideration." In the preamble to the resolutions contained in the circulating petitions, Congressman Harry L. Haines has introduced his own bill as a member of the post office and post roads committee. The bill, which would authorize the establishment of the service and provide appropriations, is to be discussed in the House within a week.

Some opposition to the plan is reported to be developing and reported to be prompted by present carriers servicing some of the towns on the proposed route, the resolutions state. The resolutions condemn the opposition as "short-sighted and selfish" and point to the fact that elaborate airport facilities are not necessary for service on the proposed system which is to benefit a broad area of the state.

Information received here is to the effect that Gettysburg and other towns on the experimental route operated in the spring have been placed on a tentative route. Advantages of rapid and direct communication with transcontinental airlines are pointed out in the papers attached to the resolutions.

It is anticipated that the air mail collected here and at other towns along the proposed route would be of sufficient volume to pay for the added service.

Four Charged as Dog Law Violators

Harry L. Tolbert, Chambersburg, field agent for the bureau of animal industry, filed informations against four counties today before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore charging them with harboring unlicensed dogs. The defendants are W. E. Chamberlain, Orrtanna R. 2; Alton Snyder, Gettysburg R. 2; Dwight Snyder, Gettysburg R. 2; and Charles McDannell, Orrtanna. Each has been notified to appear for a hearing July 15 before Justice Baschore.

Chamberlain told the justice this afternoon that he bought a license for his dog Thursday afternoon. The enforcement officer stated that the dog must be wearing the license to comply with the law.

The fourteen coins were sent to Mr. Vittor by United States parcel post.

More than 12,000 coins have been sent from the commission offices thus far. Shipments have been made to every state in the union and several have been mailed to Canada.

BOMBS, FLARES IN FIREWORKS SHOW BAN ON SUNDAY FROG SHOOTING

An hour and a half display of aerial fireworks has been arranged for presentation on the Gettysburg high school athletic field Monday evening, July 5, beginning at nine o'clock, as Gettysburg's celebration of the Fourth of July season.

Sponsored by the Lions' club, the entertainment will include the setting off of about 235 pieces. Among these are an American flag with flares; 44 nine-inch bombs; 35 12-inch bombs; 12 16-inch bombs and 20 15-inch bombs, and an assortment of rockets.

The committee in charge of the display, comprising William Beales, Dr. R. D. Wickerham and A. E. Hutchison, announced today that East Confederate avenue from East Middle street to Culp's hill will be closed to traffic on Monday evening and that Wainwright avenue will be used for south-bound traffic only. Parking around the high school building will be supervised by local police.

The display will cost approximately $195, most of which has been paid for through public donations.

Soviet to Move Troops From Amur if Japan Follows Suit

Moscow, July 2 (AP)—Solution of the dangerous Russo-Japanese crisis growing out of the battle of the Amur river Wednesday was considered largely in the hands of military commanders in the far east today.

Usually competent Moscow observers, reviewing the rapid developments in the situation, declared the immediate question was whether the Japanese army in Manchoukuo would respond to a Soviet proposal for simultaneous demilitarization of the danger zone in the northeastern border of Manchoukuo and Siberia.

The Soviet government announced early today it would withdraw its armed forces from the area, already scene of a bloody battle, if Japan would follow suit.

The Russian announcement, made in a foreign office communique, in-

SEVENTY RUSSIANS ARE "LIQUIDATED"

Moscow, July 2 (AP)—Leonid Zakovsky, chief of the Leningrad secret police, announced today the arrest and "liquidation" of more than 70 persons who allegedly acted as counter-revolutionary spies and "diversionists" for the Estonian intelligence service.

Unless this is done, observers declared, it appeared the Japanese Kwantung army in Manchoukuo would take things into its own hands and attempt forcibly to eject the Soviet troops. Soviet sources believe the Kwantung army virtually is independent of control from Tokyo.

Bans Use of Firecrackers

In the interest of a "safe and sane Fourth of July" in Gettysburg, Burgess Wilbur J. Stalinsmith today warned that the sale and use of firecrackers and "torpedoes" will not be permitted in the borough. He announced that persons who disregard the warning will be prosecuted.

In issuing the annual proclamation against the use of dangerous fire crackers, the burgess recalled that one accident already has taken place here this year through their use.

There is no objection to the proper use of sparkers and cap pistols, he said.

Both the school board and borough authorities have given permission for the public fireworks display Monday evening on the Gettysburg high school grounds.

3 VICTIMS OF HOLDUP RESUME VACATION TRIP

With their new sedan, luggage and $90 in travelers' checks returned to them Thursday afternoon by local officers of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, the three young suburban Pittsburgh women who had been robbed of their property at pistol point Wednesday evening by a man posing as a "battledfield guard" continued their vacation trip to Atlantic City this morning. All the stolen property had been recovered with the exception of $60 in cash taken from the pocket-books of two of the girls.

The three Gettysburg visitors, Elsie Kummer and Jean Vandevort, both of Westview, and Cora Anderson, Kersey, enjoyed a free trip over the battledfield Thursday afternoon with a bona fide park official. They were escorted on their tour by Dr. Frederick Tilberg, assistant historian of the local national park office, and expressed themselves as being much interested in the field.

In the meantime officers have continued to check every clue that they have discovered that may point to the identity of the dark, wavy haired youth who guided the trio to a lonely spot on a country road two miles from the Hoffman orphanage and then held them up.

Chief of Police H. S. Roberts, of Littlestown, has reported that he learned that a man answering the description of the robber appeared at Foulk's store at Two Taverns between 8 and 9 o'clock Wednesday evening and asked for transportation to Littlestown. A Mr. Snyder obliged and when the stranger reached Littlestown he employed Harry Peeser, Littlestown, to drive him to Baltimore for $7. Officers are checking this information.

If a suspect is taken into custody here the three young women may be asked to return here to identify the prisoner.

3RD MANHUNT IN 25 HRS. CAUSED AS THIEF FLEES FROM CAR CRASH

Members of the local detail of the Pennsylvania Motor Police entered upon their third manhunt within a period of 25 hours late Thursday afternoon when the officers here were informed that the driver had fled from a wrecked machine after upsetting on a country road leading from Arendtsville to Cashtown, about two miles from Cashtown.

Officers investigated and found that the car was that of Willis Eckert, Hanover street, which had been parked in front of his place of business, the Gettysburg bowling center, York street, early Thursday afternoon. Eckert did not know his car had been moved until officers told him of the accident. The owner said he had left the keys in the car.

An eight-hour search by the officers failed to locate the man who had been seen running away from the damaged car. His description was broadcast over the police teletype system, which asked for his apprehension as a suspect in the "battledfield guard" robbery of three young suburban Pittsburgh women near the Hoffman orphanage Wednesday evening. The search for the auto thief was resumed this morning.

He was last seen, so far as officers have learned, at the Hilltown store operated by Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Miller. Mrs. Miller talked with him and directed him to Route 30 at Cashtown. He walked away in that direction and his movements beyond that point have not been traced. Mrs. Miller gave the police a description of the man and said his left hand was badly cut and was bleeding.

Officers believe that after stealing the car on York street the thief drove to Arendtsville and then turned south over a country road leading toward Cashtown and intersecting the hard-surfaced Cashtown-Arendtsville road near the Deardoff brothers' property. The accident occurred only a short distance from that intersection.

The crash was described to police by harvest hands on the Deardoff fields. They said the car veered off the left side of the road as it rounded a turn on a hill and then rolled over, coming to rest on the lawn of the Leon Saunders property. Saunders, napping at the time, was aroused by the crash, but found the operator gone. The Deardoff workmen said the driver clambered from the machine, ran across an open field and into the woods.

A man, who police are convinced was the operator of the stolen machine, appeared at the Miller store, more than a mile distant, at Hilltown, about 4:30 o'clock, and "sneaked along the warehouse" until Mrs. Miller noticed him. He appeared nervous. He bought a bottle of Coca-Cola. He explained the injury to his left hand by saying that he had been hurt while running a tractor on a farm a few miles away and denied he had been in an automobile accident.

Handbag Found in Car

He talked about the weather, the beautiful countryside and the harvest, inquiring if Mrs. Miller knew where he might secure work. He told her his home was in Uniontown. The conversation ended by his asking directions to the Lincoln highway.

Mrs. Miller described the man as being between 20 and 25 years of age, with dark hair, light trousers, striped white shirt and a dirty gray coat. He was hatless. His front teeth were uneven.

Officers found a handbag in the car containing some soiled men's clothing, several ladies' dresses and two letters addressed to Wilbur Miller. One was addressed to general delivery at Vineland, New Jersey, and the other to a street address in Atlantic City. One letter was from the mother of the person to whom the letter was directed.

The Eckert car was not badly damaged and could be driven home by its owner later in the evening. Damage was estimated at about $50.

CIO THREATENS FIGHT AS OHIO PLANT RE-OPENS

Massillon, Ohio, July 2 (AP).—Republic Steel corporation defied a CIO picket siege and reopened another strike-locked plant today. There was no violence.

Gates of the concern's central steel division swung open, under protection of steel-helmeted National Guardsmen, for the first time since the strike started May 27.

Non-strikers, in about 115 automobiles, quietly drove inside. About 300 pickets booed and jeered but were kept away from the plant by the troops.

Some foremen and office workers also were sent into Republic's Union drawn steel division. Harvey Elliott, a CIO picket captain, estimated their number at about 100.

The re-opening left Cleveland the only city where Republic's sprawling mills were completely closed. Re-opening of the four Cleveland units was expected next week.

Only a few hours before the concern's newest "back-to-work" move, the home of a non-striking employee was dynamited at nearby Canton. The blast ripped the rear porch off the home of Matt Perich, but injured none.

Republic ignored a CIO picket captain's blistering diatribe:

"If they try to open this place, they are in for a bloody fight."

Five hundred troops moved in to forestall such an eventuality. They came from the Youngstown area where plants were re-opened last week under similar circumstances without disorder.

Back-to-work was the music trumpeting feet were drumming all along the five-week-old strike front—from Johnstown, with its recent history of martial law and dynamitings, and aroused citizenry, through the Ohio mill cities of the Mahoning valley, and up to the western terminus of the Indiana-Illinois Calumet area.

But the strike, with its record of 3 dead, 25 injured and $30,000,000 cost, was still on.

Republic's general steel division normally employs 3,700 men. The reopening today called for only 800 workers, the company announced. A "warm up" crew was moved into the mills during the night.

State troops proceeded with caution over a viaduct Thursday night, for there had been whistlings of a plot to dynamite it. Small detachments were sent ahead, and they made a thorough search before the main body of troops was permitted to advance.

The picket captain's protest against use of troops was echoed in Federal court at Columbus, where CIO is seeking to enjoin the employment of militia in the strike sectors. Judge Mell G. Underwood has set next Tuesday as the date for hearing the union's appeal for a temporary restraining order against the troops.

The union's position now contrasts sharply with its attitude when troops were first ordered into the Mahoning valley more than a week ago. At that time the Mahoning valley was treated to the unusual spectacle of strikers cheering the arrival of soldiers, the reason being that the original troops called for the soldiers to maintain the "status quo," which meant keeping mills closed that were closed when they came in.

Later Governor Davey modified the order with a statement that the soldiers would guarantee "the sacred right to work—and the right to strike." Under this dictum plants at Youngstown and Warren have re-opened. Company officials said today that plants in the Youngstown area, normally employing 30,000 men, were "within 1,000 men of normal."

BILL REGULATES SALE OF AUTOS

Harrisburg, July 2 (AP).—Automobile sales in Pennsylvania were placed under a two-year "Little NRA" set up by the 1937 Legislature.

Governor George H. Earle signed the measure Thursday night for a five-man commission which will direct trade-in, new and used cars. Appointments must be confirmed by the Senate, but the commission can function until the next session of the legislature.

First action of the commission would be to make a 30-day survey of prices on which to base its schedule of maximum appraisal values.

This schedule would determine the trade-in and re-sale value of automobiles manufactured in the last eight years. Cars older than that would be valued at $50.

All dealers and salesmen must be licensed.

Be careful not to drink or eat too much cold or chilled food in summer. The stomach naturally becomes chilled if the food is very cold. Digestion is then retarded. Meats, broiled or made into loaves, vegetables, served with plain or butter sauces, fruit or vegetable salads with French dressing and simple desserts are appetizing and nutritious.

Countians Help Bus in Trouble On Their Tour to Alaska

Some experiences of the boys from the county making the annual Future Farmers of America tour to Alaska are contained in a letter from the director, Professor Edwin A. Rice. The letter follows:

"We are now at Lookout Mountain. That was such a pretty place that we stayed too long and got behind time. We have been treated very well along the way and have been complimented repeatedly for the fine well behaved lot of boys. We traveled across the southern part of Tennessee, instead of Alabama and Mississippi, as we had first planned. The road was paved all the way. The folks in the south pasture their animals at large, even in some of the towns. At Mount-eagle, Tennessee, the pigs were walking around the town as though they were a very important part of the place. The southern part of Tennessee is rather rough and rolling with only a fertile valley here and there and the people live just like the other southern folks—in small houses set on stilts.

"We crossed the Mississippi river at Memphis in broad daylight and I was very particular that all the boys were awake and saw it. The great 'Father of Waters' was a disappointment to this group as it had been to others. It is barely as wide as the Susquehanna at Harrisburg. We stopped at a camp near Memphis, Arkansas, to find a camping place and get something to eat. We were advised to beat it for the hills or the mosquitoes would eat us up. It was here that 'Sheriff' Tate ate a baker's pie and got sick on it. On his account we lay over at Dardanelles about three hours.

"In spite of this we drove about 60 miles into Oklahoma and camped at Haskell. It was very hot crossing Arkansas and Oklahoma. If Oklahoma is a great farming state it surely is not where we crossed it.

"We reached Amarillo Friday night and found a camp where we were allowed the use of the showers and the laundry. During the night a dust storm came our way and when we got awake everything was covered with a fine coat of dust. The boys washed their clothes and took a shower bath. We were all reasonably clean when we left Amarillo but it did not last long. We ran into rain Wednesday afternoon and as long as we were on a hard surfaced road it did not make any difference but we had a 60-mile stretch of dirt road which caused us to spoil our clean clothes.

"We were headed for Santa Fe and were told at a gas station that there had been a wash out and that we would have to go another way. We started and did not get those 60 miles traveled until Thursday afternoon at 3 p. m. I have never hit worse roads anywhere than the one we were on. We were making what I thought was fair progress last evening when we caught up to a bus in trouble. The driver had slipped off the road and bent his steering rod. We helped him, especially Rodney Taylor, to get his bus fixed up and then we both went on our way, the bus leading. Such

EARHART ON WAY TO TINY ISLAND IN THE PACIFIC

San Francisco, July (AP).—Amelia Earhart blazed a new air trail over the South Pacific today in a hazardous 2,570-mile flight from Lae, New Guinea, to tiny Howland Island.

She started at 10 a. m. today, Lae time, (4 p. m., Thursday, Pacific Standard Time) and was expected to complete it in about 18 or 20 hours.

The first radio message received early today by Coast Guard headquarters here, where George Putnam is listening in on his wife's flight, was undecipherable. Putnam said he "assumed" the flight was proceeding normally.

It is the longest and most perilous flight ever undertaken by America's leading feminine aviator. To aid her the United States Navy stationed the ocean-going tug "Ontario" midway along her route and the Coast Guard sent the cutter "Itasca" to Howland Island.

Flying across the equator and the international dateline Miss Earhart was scheduled to arrive in Howland, technically, a few hours before she took off from Lae. While it was 10 a. m. Friday in Lae when the flight started, it was only 12:30 p. m. Thursday in Howland.

Two more long over-water hops lay ahead of Miss Earhart before the end of her globe-girdling itinerary in Oakland, California. From Howland she planned to fly 1,532 miles to Honolulu, where she would again be back on established air routes for the remaining 2,410 miles to California.

ASKS REPRIEVE FOR SLAYER TO STUDY ACTIONS

Philadelphia, July 2 (AP).—The Pennsylvania Prison society asked Governor Earle today to reprieve Alexander Meyer of Chester county, under sentence of death for killing 16-year-old Helen Moyer, so that the pardon board might hold a rehearing on a request for commutation.

Meyer's execution has been fixed for the week beginning July 12. "The Meyer case," a letter from the society said, "is so extreme in its abnormality that only its atrocity and the consequent emotional reaction of the community, obscure the otherwise obvious fact that his was the act of an irresponsible person."

"It seems that society would be better served if this unfortunate youth and others guilty of abnormal crimes were subjected to prolonged observation and intensive study. In this way only can society develop methods for early detection and preventive treatment of those who may be potential criminals. Certainly society cannot hope to make progress in the treatment of those with abnormal tendencies so long as it clings to the archaic legal definition of insanity."

"We ask that you consider the Meyer case from this standpoint and make it possible to have a rehearing. The Pennsylvania Prison society protests vigorously against the amplification of this unfortunate individual without further consideration."

The letter was signed by A. G. Fraser, executive secretary. Meyer was convicted of running down the Moyer girl with his truck, taking her to an abandoned farm where he attacked her and threw her body into a well.

TOO EFFICIENT

Shelby, N. C.—Local firemen had to pour hot water on their fountain to get ice water. The laddies, tired of tepid water, rigged up refrigerating apparatus from several coils of pipe, an old drink stand, and other accessories. The gadget worked too well, and the boys had to thaw out an eight-inch layer of ice on the pipes before the water would flow.

A DOG'S DEVOTION

Tokyo.—Every morning at four o'clock, a drum is beaten at the village shrine of Sango. A three-year-old dog kept by the village head, Kakutaro Yauchi, runs to the shrine and bows before it. Yauchi is a devout person and the dog is believed to have acquired the habit from his master.

NICE KITTY!

Tulsa, Okla.—"No," said Patrolman Ike Fisher, "You're sergeant, and I'm just a private. I'll go for help." "No," said Sergeant Lloyd Miller, "I'll go—Oh, here comes the man now." The man was Frank Vanderwall, animal trainer, whose escaped cougar had just chased the two officers over a fence. He prodded the three beasts into a cage. Then he put his hand into their mouths. "They're really quite tame," he said.

BRITAIN READY TO SCRAP PACT ON NEUTRALITY

(By The Associated Press) Italy and Germany, still flatly opposed to an Anglo-French neutrality pact of all Spain's coasts, proposed today that both sides of the Spanish Civil war be given belligerent rights.

The plan was offered jointly at a second critical meeting of the non-intervention sub-committee dealing with the withdrawal of Germany and Italy from the four-power neutrality naval patrol.

It was submitted as a counter-proposal to the Anglo-French plan and left unanswered how Europe was to save its peace from possible Spanish explosion.

Earlier, Britain and France formulated what was regarded as a firm stand against Italy and Germany on the issue. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons there could be no agreement of belligerent rights at the moment.

French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos was reported in Paris to have told the Chamber of Deputies foreign affairs committee that France and Britain might over-ride Italy-German objections and jointly patrol Spain's coast. There also was the possibility of complete abandonment of the non-intervention scheme.

Britons, meanwhile, received fresh reminders of their empire's defense preparations. Warnings were posted against suspicious aerial photography. A drive was announced for 8,000,000 tons of scrap iron and steel for armaments. Military officials of British-inspired Egypt plotted strong defenses along the border of Libya, Italy's north African colony.

Spanish Foreign Minister Jose Giral Pereira was reported to have arrived incognito in Paris to line up French support for government of Spain if international neutrality collapses.

Insurgent troops in northern Spain said they had invaded the Province of Santander, Generalissimo Francisco Franco's major northern objective. But government advisers said the insurgents failed to break through Basque-Asturian defense lines.

Insurgent bombers destroyed several houses and wounded many inhabitants of Santander in an air raid, the sixth in two days. A government air fleet bombed the insurgent air base at Seville.

June receipts were $106,362,063; payments, $53,592,865.

FREED OF BRUNO ESCAPE CHARGE

Pottsville, Pa., July 2 (AP).—A Schuylkill county jury today acquitted Mrs. Antoinette Billig of aiding her father, Joseph Bruno, in escaping from jail last December.

Bruno, former Kelayes political leader under sentence to three life terms for the election day slayings of 1934, escaped from a guard who had taken him to a dentist's office. The jury agreed on a verdict Thursday night and returned it to court this morning. The county was directed to pay the costs of the prosecution.

Mrs. Billig was charged with giving $1,000 to Bruno on the day of his escape. He was awaiting transfer to the Eastern penitentiary.

Five persons were killed and scores were wounded in the Kelayes shooting.

These bills were voted: Prohibiting the joining in one agreement of furniture and household articles purchased or leased on the installment plan at different times.

The Governor said: "Under the present method of consolidation of contracts, the customer is advised periodically of his purchases and indebtedness. Under such a system the customer will not arbitrarily increase his purchases when such a procedure would involve the risk of jeopardizing that merchandise which he has already purchased and which may be subject to similar agreements."

Giving the sheriff of another county the right to serve writs of summons in claims for damages against real estate owners. The Governor explained another bill already enacted covered the same provisions.

Permitting tax collectors of second class school districts to give fidelity bonds. Earle said the measure would revive by amendment a measure already repealed, and therefore would have no legal effect. Prohibiting admission in criminal cases of evidence illegally obtained.

The Governor said: "In many cases it would unduly favor law violators by suppressing conclusive evidence of their offenses simply because such evidence was irregularly obtained. Technicalities should not be permitted to enable a law violator to assert another's wrong as a means of escaping punishment."

Defining concepts of "principal" and "income" in the interests of tenants and remainder in a fund or an estate created for their benefit.

CUBS AND GIANTS ADOPT ST. LOUIS TACTICS TO WIN

(By The Associated Press)
The Gas House gangsters are still rough, tough and nasty, but they're learning fast and from experts that they'll need lots more than an ability to dish it out in order to string along in the current National league dog fight.

It was all very well for the Cardinals while they were monopolizing the chip-on-shoulder, knock-down and drag-out business, but since the Giants and Cubs both have picked up sizeable portions of the same stuff, the St. Louis crew isn't looking so hot.

In fact, in their last two series, against the Giants and Cubs, they haven't even been luke warm. As a result today they're creaking along in a third-place tie with the Pittsburgh Pirates, while the Cubs and Giants are racing 3 1/2 and three games, respectively, in front of them.

The Giants date their sudden slugging tactics from the now historic "battle of St. Louis." The Cubs began their transition from the "brotherly love" idea when Manager "Jolly Cholly" Grimm laid down the law and made any Cub kidding around a first degree offense for this season.

Tangling with these two troupes in their last six starts, the Cards have dropped five in a row to the Giants and three straight to the Cubs. And losing those two series meant as much to them as their pay checks, particularly at this time when the jockeying for fourth of July positions is going on full blast.

Their "big three" pitching troop of Dean, Bob Welland and Lon Warneke folded up in that six-game stretch. Although they've kept on hitting, their defenses have been full of holes.

Thursday, Frankie Frisch sent Jim Winford to the wars and the Cubs pinned his ears back 6-3, after Frisch and Shortstop Lippy Leo Durocher were banned for rowing with the umpire. Ripper Collins' homer with two aboard was the payoff wallop.

The Cubs had to win to stay out in front, for the Giants, as anxious as a mother hen in their drive to hit the top by July 4, knocked over the Phillies 8-6, on Wally Berger's pinch-homer in the clutch, with two on base and two away in the ninth, to remain a half-game off the pace.

Although they won a 12-7 burlesque from the Athletics, the Yankees were a sorry set. Twinkletoes Selkirk, their slugging out-

Brooklyn's Dodgers finally ended their scoreless streak at 36 consecutive innings, but one run was the total of their production, and the Boston Bess turned in a victory behind Johnny Lanning's three-hit flinging, for their sixth win in a row.

One Run in 36 Innings

New York, July 2 (AP).—When and if Mike Jacobs puts on that fight card featuring four world's champions, some smart guy ought to rent a lot across the street from the Yankee stadium and put on a show to take care of the overflow. . . . Those Dodgers have managed to count once in the last 36 innings. . . . Looks like Herr Max Schmeling has done a swell job of sulking himself out of a shot at the heavyweight title. . . . Dick Bartell hit his last two homers on the last day of May and the last day of June.

Give Fans Choice

You've heard those squawks about this player and that being left off the all-star teams. . . . Now you know why the poor guys who manage those outfits think theirs is a hopeless job. . . . Commissioner Landis and Presidents Frick and Harridge would do well to put the naming of the players back in the hands of the fans—where it started and where it belongs. . . . Terry ignored Heinie Manush of the Dodgers and the American league managers forgot about Johnny Stone, of Washington, among others. . . . The fans would have had both of 'em in there. . . . The game is slipping in popularity and there's a durned good reason.

Leiber May Return

During his six years in the majors, Van Hango has won only one game in Boston. . . . mebbe it's the beans. . . . good news: Hank Leiber, of the giants, bearded by Bob Feller last spring, may be back in uniform by July.

MARYLAND MARRIAGE LAW IS SUSPENDED UNTIL 1938

Annapolis, July 2 (AP).—The clerks of Maryland courts Thursday were notified that the 48-hour marriage law and the legislative act designed to regulate the sale of coal in the state had been suspended until after the November, 1938, election.

The marriage law requires a delay of 48 hours between the time a license is issued and the ceremony. This law also has been made subject to referendum. Opponents of both laws filed more than the required 10,000 names of voters to force the acts on the 1938 ballots.

Alone!

A tear trickled down a wrinkled cheek. Poor lonely old soul. A companion of forty-five years of happiness taken from her when she needed him most. Couldn't the driver have seen that she and Daddy were just a bit unsteady—a trifle bewildered? Couldn't he have been just a little more careful?

It's hard to believe that 55,727 persons were injured by highway accidents last year in Pennsylvania, but it's true. YOUR HELP IS NEEDED.

THE SILENT ONE

THEY wandered slowly along and then parked the automobile
Two-Ways and the trailer.

After this they took some blankets from the trailer and walked through the woods until they found a lake which was surrounded by forests.

Jelly Bear, Honey Bear, the cubs
Jupiter and Blacky and little Chubby all helped with the blankets and Rip, the dog, trotted along by Willy Nilly's side. The Puddle Muddlers had decided that Willy-Nilly should do nothing for a change. Top Notch, the rooster, was perched on his shoulder, and Sweet ace, the lamb, followed.

The little ducks waddled as best they could through the underbrush, while Christopher Columbus Crow flew over the trees and guided them to the lake.

Willy Nilly built a fire and cooked their supper, with the provisions they had brought along.

After they had eaten their meal and had sat by the fire's embers, all of the Puddle Muddlers except Willy Nilly soon fell fast asleep.

The little man did not feel sleepy.
He was thinking about this trip they were taking, and of his animal friends who always wanted to be with him.

What a commotion they had made as they had all stalked through the woods. He laughed to himself now as he thought of it. The bears had really been the quietest of all and yet they were the largest. He had made every twig sound as he had brushed by it.

And now the colors of the setting sun were reflected in the lake before him. But he was not noticing them so much as he was the silent one who had just appeared.

Tomorrow—"An Evening Meal."

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

EARTH

YOU feed me. You give me air for these lungs of mine. I am intoxicated by the beauty of your changing garments. Their perfume thrills me! The green carpet that I tread as I wander about your realm, rests my feet.

I walk about among mysteries that amaze and stimulate my mind. I wonder about the buried secrets that lie so hidden beneath your breast.
And the laws that rule your realm seem so simple, so understandable. I am drawn to every creature that roams about the hills, the valleys, and the forests that decorate your surface.

I marvel at the tiniest flower. Its silent challenge, perfect in its beauty, goes unanswered. Why is it "born to blush unseen" so often? And why, in writing, does it give its last full measure of life in intensified perfume?

In the midst of human strife and selfish aims, why does the mocking bird sing on? In the very whisper of the wind there is a message of peace and goodwill. Time regrets nothing. Eternity is ageless. The dewdrop echoes heaven! There is a substance of faith in the flight of every bird. The knowledge that I am unable to grasp from sight and hearing, I gain from books that once were trees.

The little machine that obeys the touch of these fingers of mine, as I write, came from the storehouse that belongs to you—earth. The house, in which I live, the bed upon which I sleep, the rugs upon my floors, the building in which I work, the car that takes me here and there, the instruments that bring music to my ears—nothing of which I can think, can be traced elsewhere than to you—the good earth.

"For me," said Michael Fairless, "the clue to the next world lies in the wisdom of earth rather than in the learning of men." To the end she is our Mother—and to her heart she draws us for our final sleep. Glorious Earth!

FLAME TRAIL

By MARIE DE NERVAUD

SYNOPSIS: When Kay Crandon's Lazy
Nine ranch house and barn burn, Kay Hastings—who wants to buy the ranch and marry Kay—invites her to the Flying Six. She refuses, disliking him, but young sister Babs and Aunt Kate go. The insurance money has to go to the mortgage, jolting Kay's plan to rebuild. Ted Gaynor, a puncher Kay hired impulsively, stirs the outfit to cut its own timber and rebuild without pay. She is on her way to buy the only available timberland when Scrap Johnson, a Hastings puncher, lassos her, leaving her roped on the meat. Meanwhile Ted gets an option on the land for Kay.

with a hoarse laugh, he stooped down beside her, and put his arm around her.

"A bird in the hand's worth two in the bush," he gloated, breathing heavily. His eyes avoided hers and focused on her lips, and Kay felt a sick rush of terror.

In their absorption, neither had heard the thud of distant hoofbeats, but now, at the same moment, they both became aware of them.

Scrap Johnson dropped Kay with an oath, sprang to his feet and seized his gun.

In the same instant, Kay kicked out fiercely against his shins, her bound feet catching him unawares and throwing him off his balance.

He crashed to the ground, his gun exploding harmlessly in the air.
Through waves of blackness, Kay heard the pounding of hoofs and Ted Gaynor's voice calling "Lie still!
If you move, you're a goner!"

Galvanized to life again by the miracle of hearing Ted's voice, Kay shrank away from the prone figure at her feet, that suddenly ceased struggling at the deadly threat behind Ted's command. With her heart at her throat, she turned and gazed at the oncoming figure of her rescuer.

Taking in the situation at a glance, Ted pulled his mount to a sliding stop and slipped off. His eyes were fixed on Scrap Johnson, whom he kept covered with the gun
Kay had given him.

A foot or two away from Scrap Johnson, his gun lay where it had fallen, just out of reach. Shifting his arm for one fraction of a second, Ted fired, shattering the gun to bits. Then he covered the man on the ground again, before he had a chance to move.

"Get out of my reach, Kay," Ted called without once taking his eyes off his victim. "I don't aim to have him try to use you as a shield!"

Kay obeyed without a word, dragging herself to one side.

"Now, get up, you!"
It seemed to Kay that she had never heard such controlled fury in any human voice.

After a moment's hesitation, the Flying Six puncher rose to his feet,
"Pitch 'em, and keep 'em there!"
With a snarl, he obeyed. Kay glanced fearfully from one man to the other.

"Turn around!" Ted's voice rang out again. As his prisoner obeyed, he reached with his free hand for the rope on the pommel of his saddle. Stepping swiftly over to Scrap Johnson, he pressed his gun into his back, at the same time putting a loop around his raised hands.

Jerking them down, he expertly trussed his arms to his sides, then tripped him and finished the job of hog-tying him.

"A Second Lesson"
Leaving him where he had dropped, Ted strode over to Kay and,
with quick, clean cuts of his knife, severed the ropes that bound her.

"Are you all right?" His breath came quickly, as he gazed anxiously into Kay's eyes.

She added, a tremulous, reassuring smile on her lips. "Yes, thanks to you."

Ted handed her her father's gun.
"Take this, and if anything happens to me, you can protect yourself. But nothing will happen." His voice still vibrated with the same deadly fury.

"What are you going to do?" Kay demanded.

"Much as I'd like to, I can't kill this cowardly coyote in cold blood if he hasn't harmed you; and I'm not going to drag him to the sheriff to have this noised about the range.
So, I'm going to give him a second lesson he won't forget, and if he ever shows up on the range again, I'll kill him!"

"No—no!" Kay cried in a terror-stricken voice. "Leave him bound and let's go!"

Without appearing to hear her,
Ted stepped swiftly away, and called contemptuously to Scrap Johnson.
"That's only a slip noose. Get yourself free and come take your lesson."

A look of mingled surprise and elation gleamed in Scrap Johnson's eyes as he strained against the ropes and felt them give. Shaking himself loose, he crouched for a moment, then made a rush for Ted, all the rage of his former defeat in his attack.

It seemed to Kay that it was hours instead of seconds that heart in her mouth, she watched the struggle. Both men were slight in build, though Scrap Johnson had a decided advantage in weight and general physical fitness.

The indignity that Kay had suffered, however, added an invincible fury to Ted's attack that far outweighed any mere physical advantage.

Sidestepping his opponent's flitting rush, he tore back at him with a blow that sent him staggering backwards. Recovering his balance Scrap Johnson lowered his head with a roar of rage and butted into Ted's stomach like a battering ram. But Ted countered with a swinging uppercut that found its mark.

Following up his advantage like one possessed, he landed one terrific punch after another, finally forcing his antagonist to his knees.
Panting and blinking the sweat out of his eyes, Ted drew back and let the groggy puncher struggle to his feet.

Then Scrap Johnson put all he had left in a wild lunge. Ted saw his opportunity and drove a knockout blow to his chin.

Scrap's head snapped back with a sickening twist. Groaning, he toppled to the ground and lay still.

NEWS of the DAY in PICTURES

LITHUANIAN WINGERS.

At Elmira, N. Y., gliders and pilots from over the world were gathered for the Soaring Society's eighth annual meet. Here are a couple of motorless plane experts from Lithuania—Pronius Oskirus (standing) and Jonas Prygius—as they groomed their bird for the competition.

BIG BIRD FROM GERMANY.

Seemingly always poised to flap aloft on its graceful wings, this eagle-like glider from Germany was brought to the Elmira soaring meet by Peter Reidel of Germany. Note the swastika on the tail of the craft. Reidel flew 103 miles from Harris Hill to Elizabethtown, Pennsylvania, in five hours, two minutes.

CHAMP BIRDMAN.

Chester Decker of Glen Rock, N. Y., pilot of the Albatross entry in the Elmira glider meet, was champion of the 1936 competition.

GLIDE FACTORY.

This gadget puts the glide into gliders. It's the starter that powers the tow rope attached to the glider for the take-off. If the glider fails to cut loose, the rope automatically is cut. This starter, manned by Jack Wallace, came with the M. I. T. glider-men.

PEACE IN BILBAO. The city of Bilbao, capital of the Basques, was rapidly returning to normalcy after Franco's insurgents captured the loyalist stronghold. Here is a part of the triumphal entry of the victors. Excited townsfolk are shown giving the fascist salute to insurgent officers as they drove into the city.

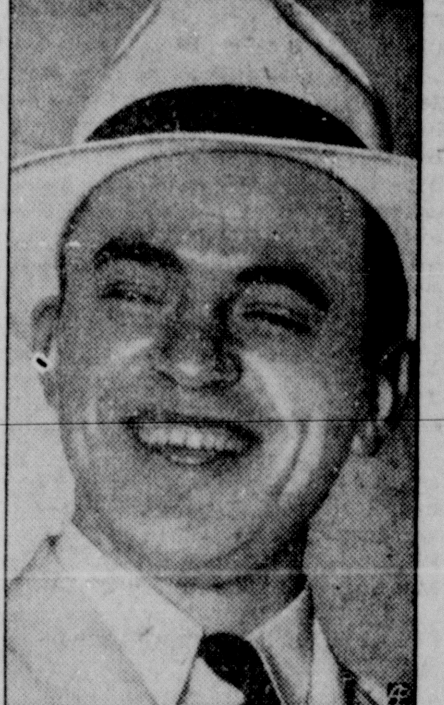

RACKET IN ENGLAND. America's Alice Marble, U. S. women's champion, was hard at work at the Wimbledon, England, tourney when this rapid action picture was snapped. She's a top-notch campaigner for this country abroad.

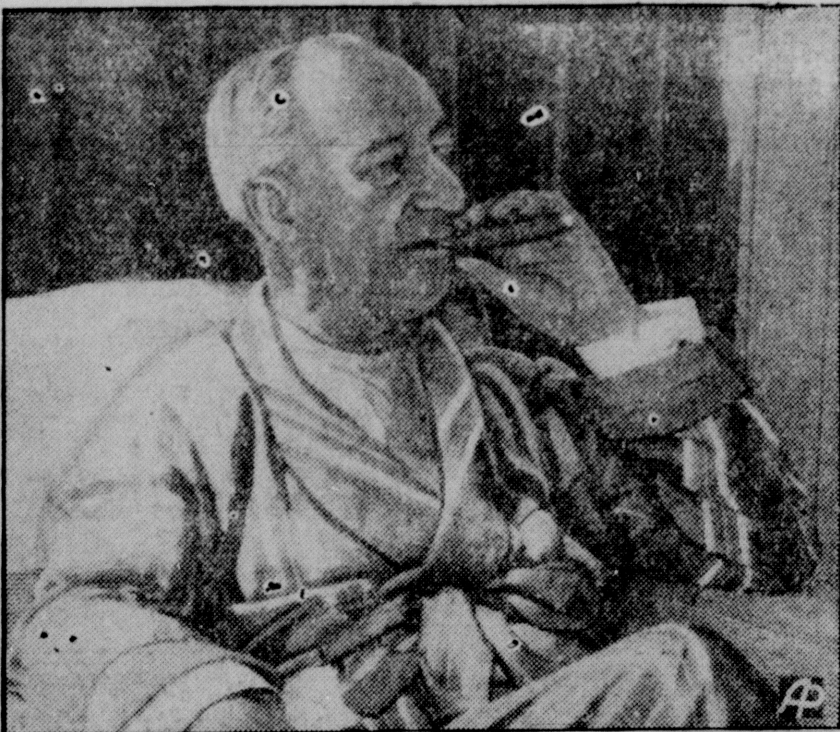

SMILING SLAYER. Robert Irwin, 29, presented this gay appearance when facing officers after his arrest for the triple slaying of a New York model, her mother and a roomer last Easter.

SPOTTED KILLER. It was Henrietta Koscianski, Cleveland hotel kitchen girl, who recognized a bar boy as Robert Irwin, sculptor sought for the Gedeon slayings in New York. She collected a reward.

NO FEARS. Although hinting at a plea of insanity, Irwin gaily announced he had no fear of "the chair" if convicted of the three Easter murders in the home of Veronica Gedeon, pretty model.

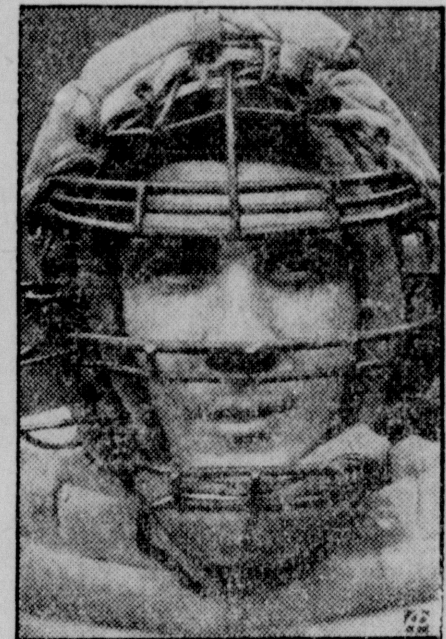

THIS IS LONDON. Al Smith, on his first European trip, was taking it easy in London after a series of tours and visits with notables in continental countries. Here he is in a moment of relaxation in his dressing gown at the Savoy hotel, just starting a quiet smoke.

LISTENER.

MICKY'S BACKSTOP.

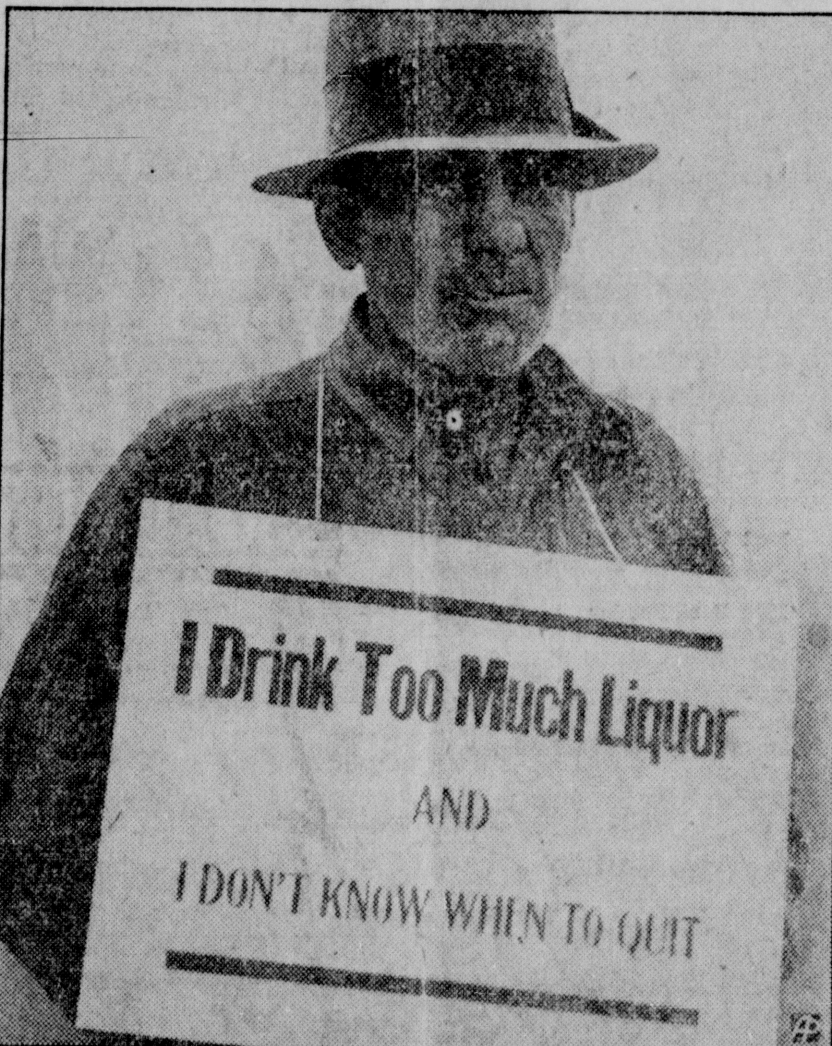

George Tebbetts was doing catcher duty for Detroit while Mickey Cochrane was convalescing from a skull fracture received when hit by a pitched ball.

HERE'S TELEVISION. This is a picture of the "eyes" of television—the scanning apparatus which, it is predicted, will bring events of the world into homes. This apparatus was installed on the center court of the Wimbledon, England, tennis tournament, and actually operated.

BATTLESHIP ABROAD. This is the United States battleship Arkansas shown passing through the Kaiser Wilhelm canal, during its visit to the German coast. The Arkansas, accompanied by the Wyoming and the New York, were all on European trips and touched port at Kiel in June.

IT'S ON HIM. Frank Smith was one of the liquor law offenders who preferred to parade the streets of Bryte, Calif., every day for a week wearing this sign instead of going to jail for 60 days. Justice of Peace Frank Paris gives the choice to those convicted of drunkenness.

CAMPBELL'S COMING AGAIN. Sir Malcolm Campbell, holder of the world's land speed record, apparently is ready to try for water speed marks in his new high-speed motorboat "Bluebird." Here it is being lowered into the waters of Scotland's picturesque Loch Lomond.

POLICE PLAN FOR CIO JOHNSTOWN MARCH, SUNDAY

Johnstown, Pa., July 2 (AP)—Police made plans today to meet whatever emergency may arise Sunday when C. I. O. holds its strike rally, but they were frankly skeptical that 40,000 unionists would come to town, as C. I. O. leaders claim.

Sidney B. Evans, management representative at Bethlehem Steel's Cambria works here, said the working force was "virtually complete." The works normally employs 15,000. Strike leaders have consistently charged that company figures were "greatly exaggerated."

Bethlehem Steel is operating in the face of three strikes. One is of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen employed on the short line used by the company to carry the output of its Cambria works to main line railroads. Another is the S. W. O. C. I. O. strike of employees at the works, and the third is a strike of miners at its "captive" mines, called in sympathy with the S. W. O. C. I. O. strike which, in turn, was called in sympathy with the Brotherhood.

The Fourth of July rally has been called, as James Mark, a C. I. O. strike of miners at its "captive" mines, called in sympathy with the S. W. O. C. I. O. strike which, in turn, was called in sympathy with the Brotherhood.

State police are checking the sale of dynamite in this section in their search for clues to the dynamiting of pipelines feeding the Bethlehem plants. One of the lines has been repaired and the other is expected to be restored to service within a few days.

Some County Farms To Be Mapped by Air

W. S. Hagar, executive officer of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Thursday announced that 4,800 square miles of Pennsylvania farm land, including some in Adams county, will be mapped by airplanes this summer as part of a 350,000 square mile mapping program of the AAA in the country.

Contracts for mapping all of Delaware county, large parts of Dauphin, Berks, Chester, Cumberland, Franklin, Lancaster, Montgomery, Perry and York counties and smaller sections of Dauphin and Lebanon counties have been awarded, Hagar said he had been advised. Ground maps will be used for other sections of the State.

Guam, the United States' mid-Pacific island possession, has a population of 20,000.

Baltimore

Current receipts in the cattle department were again of fairly light proportions.

Fresh arrivals, estimated at 375 head were augmented by 250 headovers that totalled 625 available for yesterday's requirements. The day's calf supply was chained up at 325 head, a moderate run for this time of year. Hog supply was estimated at 700, and in the sheep division 800 were expected.

Trading in general in the cattle alleys was more active than early this week.

Steers available were largely of the grain-fed variety and a few drybreds that found buyers in a receptive mood for such offerings. Sales were made mostly at 25c higher rates than Monday and just about on a par with last Thursday's levels.

Straight grassers were scarce in yesterday's run, but demand was correspondingly weak and outlet for low medium and plain grades was little, if any, better than in last Monday's sharply lower market.

Cows shared active activity, and compared with previous days this week sold on a steady to strong basis, while bulls went apart at unchanged prices.

Yesterday's steer sales considered principally of good grade steers scaling from 1,100 pounds downward that went mostly within a price spread of $11.50a12.50, with around 1,150-pound average noted at the latter price. A small lot of 1,200-pound crain fed mixed yearlings also brought $12.50, and a small parcel of 900-pound steer yearlings, $12.40. Plain lightweight grassers, mostly in small lots, sold down

Unarmed Sheriff Foils Texas Crowd Seeking Prisoner

Athens, Tex., July 2 (AP).—Dep. sheriffs and state highway patrolmen stood armed guard over Henderson county jail today, tense under a dispersed mob's threat that it would be back for a 16-year-old Negro held for attempted attack of a white woman.

Late Thursday night the mob swarmed into the tiny jail lobby, disarmed a deputy—and retreated before Sheriff Jess Sweeten, who, unarmed, calmly warned them he would "get rough" if they tried to take his prisoner.

"Boys," Sweeten told the 100 men in the mob, "I've taken an oath to protect my prisoners and I'm going to do it."

"We'll be back," someone in the crowd shouted.

"There's no need to come back," Sweeten replied. "You're not going to get him."

Sweeten said the Negro admitted beating and attempting to attack a 25-year-old white woman.

FOOTBALL IS "SCULPTURE" TO ARTIST-GRIDDER
Madison, Wis. (AP).—Rudolf Jegart, the towering sculptor who sold shares of stock in himself to finance a tour of Europe's art centers, is a candidate for an end position on the 1937 University of Wisconsin football team.

Jegart, a Milwaukee lad who measures 6 feet 4 inches, reported to Coach Harry Stuhldreher for spring practice and announce he was prepared to prove there is a relation between football and sculpture.

When America "Set up in Business" for Herself

161st ANNIVERSARY OF JULY 4, 1776

It took courage and a long, hard fight afterwards, for the young American colonies to break away from the "apron strings" of the Mother Country and "go into business" for themselves.

But America has done pretty well, thank you, in 161 years. No other land offers as much liberty and opportunity for the individual as ours does today.

Financial independence for you, too, can be won through regular, persistent saving.
